Dean's Message
1997 Terra Mariae

The 1997 edition of the Terra Mariae tracks the accomplishments of an unusual class in the 156th year in the history of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy. The Class of 1997 is the first class to have completed the totally new four-year professional doctor of pharmacy curriculum. This year's graduates have learned about pharmacy through a process much different from that of the previous baccalaureate curriculum. In keeping with the changes of the health care system, this class has been challenged by different learning experiences and expanded opportunities for individualizing education.

The Class of 1997 accepted the challenge and met it easily. Under the leadership of President Nicole Brandt and her fellow officers, the Class of 1997 not only excelled academically, but also in service to the school and to the community. During this year, the School of Pharmacy was ranked seventh in the nation by U.S. News and World Report.

Part of the Class of 1997 is a group of twenty baccalaureate pharmacists who earned their doctorate while continuing to practice. The Nontraditional PharmD Pathway gave these pharmacists the opportunity to earn the degree at their own pace. Professional education is usually the province of the young - - the high energy and the good health that make it possible to go to school, start a family, work and maybe even have a little fun! Watching fully-qualified health professionals return to the school in mid-career and balance the same and often greater responsibilities is especially gratifying.

This Terra Mariae captures a year in the life of the Class of 1997. Opening its pages will evoke memories of this year, not only for members of the Class of 1997, but for their children and their children's children. For so deftly capturing those memories, thanks go to Editors Dawn Johnson and Jennifer Fan and their staff.

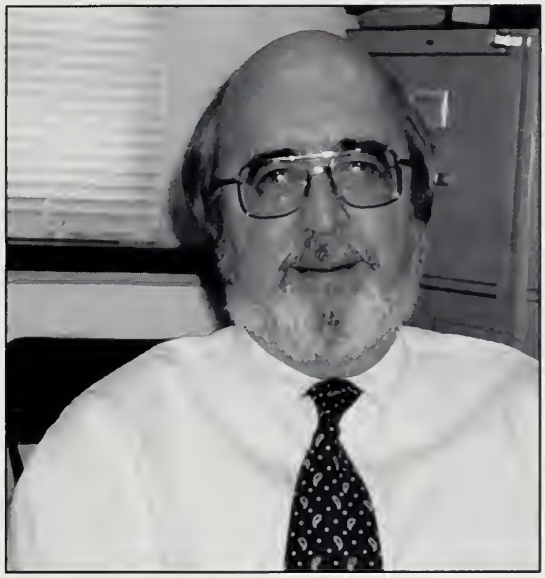
William J. Kinnard, Jr., PhD
Faculty Member, Academic Administrator, and Leader
University of Maryland Faculty
1968 to 1997



William J. Kinnard, Jr. came to Maryland in the summer of 1968 when the entire School of Pharmacy was housed in little Dunning Hall. The class numbered about 35, which could easily be accommodated in the basement classroom of the building (although visibility was impaired for some of the students by pillars). During his 21-year tenure as dean, Dr. Kinnard led the school to a position of national recognition. Programs he helped develop have served as models for schools of pharmacy across the country. When he left the deanship in 1989 to assume the acting presidency of the campus, he left the school in a new building, Pharmacy Hall, that was still not large enough to accommodate all of the faculty and programs. The class size had grown to 100 and faculty over 50.

As Acting President for almost two years and as Acting Assistant Chancellor of the University of Maryland System for another, Dr. Kinnard provided unparalleled leadership to the campus and the system during a period of general instability and economic recession. He returned to the faculty of the School of Pharmacy, and for the last six years has helped in the development of the new doctor of pharmacy curriculum, the management pathway, and the MBA/Pharm.D. program with the University of Baltimore.

Dr. Kinnard also found time during his career to serve as president and chairman of the board of directors for the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, spent ten years as chairmen of the board of trustees of the USP, act as the civilian national consultant in pharmacy to the United States Air Force, and became one the first two pharmacist to be elected to membership of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences.

The Class of 1997, of course, knows Dr. Kinnard primarily as a member of the faculty and the advisor to our class. He has been there when we needed him and since we were faced with a new curriculum, we needed him frequently! For both his services to our class and to the School of Pharmacy in the University of Maryland, we dedicate this 1997 Terra Mariae to William J. Kinnard, Jr.

In Dedication to Dr. Rebecca Finley

Dr. Rebecca S. Finley was born in Washington Court House, Ohio. She received her B.S. in Pharmacy and her Doctor of Pharmacy degrees from the University of Cincinnati completing an ASHP accredited residency at University of Cincinnati Hospitals. She received her M.S. in Institutional Pharmacy from the University of Maryland. She is a licensed pharmacist in Ohio and Maryland.

Dr. Finley came to Maryland in 1979 as a Clinical Pharmacist with the Baltimore Cancer Research Center and became a Co-preceptor in the Professional Experience Program of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy in 1980. After being promoted several times, Dr. Finley became Head, Section of Pharmacy Services; Associate Professor of Oncology; University of Maryland Cancer Center and Associate Professor of Pharmacy Practice and Science; University of Maryland School of Pharmacy.

During her years in Maryland, Dr. Finley was an outstanding leader in institutional pharmacy practice on both the state and national levels. She received the Maryland Society of Health-System Pharmacists' Pharmacist of the Year Award in 1985 and W. Arthur Purdum Award, MSHP's highest award for sustained and significant contributions to the profession, in 1987. She served as President of MSHP in 1991 later receiving the Past President's Award.

Dr. Finley has served the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists in numerous capacities including Chairman - Oncology SIG in 1985; Oncology Residency Accreditation Survey Teams; Delegate, House of Delegates; Council on Educational Affairs; and Board of Directors. Dr. Finley was installed as President of ASHP in June 1995.

Her knowledge and intelligence along with her sense of humor make her a world renowned authority and entertaining speaker. In addition, she is never too busy to offer pharmacotherapeutic consultation on a personal level.

Among her teaching responsibilities, she was Coursemaster for the experiential elective in oncology. She was admired and respected by the nontraditional students who referred affectionately to Principles of Pharmaceutical Care in Organized Health Care Settings as Becky's course.

As MSHP officers, Becky and I worked closely together on projects including transitioning MSHP from all volunteers to paid administrative services and developed a friendship that I will always treasure.

While her expertise and presence at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy was an inspiration to the students she taught and mentored, the faculty she collaborated with, and the patients she cared for, we wish her every success and happiness in her new position as Chair, Department of Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacy Administration at Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

Take care of Rufus, one of the luckiest dogs in the world!

In Dedication to Dr. Kevin Reynolds

Dr. Kevin Reynolds came to the School of Pharmacy in 1987. His arrival marked the beginning of a significant expansion of the former Department of Biomedicinal Chemistry. During this expansion he made a significant contribution to enhancing the research reputation of the Department and the School of Pharmacy and aiding in the hiring of a number of new faculty members. Personally, I have gained much from both formal and informal conversations with Dr. Reynolds; my tenure at the School of Pharmacy has been greatly enhanced by his presence.

Dr. Reynolds encompassed the transition of the School of Pharmacy curriculum from the traditional program to the all Pharm.D. To the pharmacy students Dr. Reynolds was best known for his role as course master of Biochemistry. This course was considered by the students as a milestone in the curriculum; survival of the course was a strong indication of future success in the Pharmacy program. The rigor of the course was based on Dr. Reynolds high academic standards, a quality essential to maintain the integrity of the School of Pharmacy curriculum, and more importantly, to elevate the performance of his students. This elevation aided many students as they navigated through the remainder of their stays at the School of Pharmacy as well as their professional careers.

Scientifically, Dr. Reynolds developed from a "green" junior faculty member to an internationally known scientist. His research group grew from one (himself) to ten people, signifying his academic accomplishments. His list of publications and invited lectures is long and continues to grow. Indeed, his success was the vehicle leading to his departure from the School of Pharmacy, as he continues his career at Virginia Commonwealth University.

The varied contributions of Dr. Reynolds ensure that his legacy will remain at the School of Pharmacy long after his departure.

We wish him the best of luck in all his future endeavors.

David Young, PharmD, PhD
Associate Professor
Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences
1986-1997

Dr. David Young received his Pharm.D. in 1982 and his PhD in 1983 from the University of Southern California specializing in pharmacokinetics. He began his academic career in 1983 at the University of Texas at Austin as an assistant professor in pharmaceutics. After three years on the faculty in Austin, he joined the School of Pharmacy at Maryland in the Department of Pharmaceutics. In 1990, he was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor and in 1991 he became the Director of the Pharmacokinetics Biopharmaceutics Laboratory. During his time at Austin and Maryland, Dr. Young began his research program in pharmacokinetics, examining non-invasive approaches for determining the drug disposition of antipsychotic agents. Later in his career, he developed novel approaches to evaluate the relationship between formulation and bioavailability and pharmacostatistical techniques to evaluate population pharmacokinetics courses in the curriculum. He distinguished himself in the area of teaching by winning the "Teacher of the Year" award from the Pharm.D., Class of 1992. his teaching and research attracted numerous Pharm.D. students and he was responsible for graduating the first Pharm.D.-PhD in the School of Pharmacy. He also mentored several graduate students and seven received doctorate's of philosophy under his direction. In the Spring of 1997, Dr. Young left the faculty to pursue an entrepreneural venture in pharmacokinetics.

The Best of Luck goes out to Dr. Young in all of his endeavors.

Student Committee on Drug Abuse Education

The Student Committee on Drug Abuse Education is a group of specially trained pharmacy students who present lectures on drug use/abuse and publish PharmAlert. The five-day drug information program is a polished, comprehensive educational program for middle and high school students. It covers the principles of addiction, drug action, and the effects of the major psychoactive categories(depressants, stimulants, and psychedelics.) Each year the members of SCODAE sponsor a spaghetti lunch to help defray the cost of the yearly activities.

Christian Pharmacists Fellowship International

Christian Pharmacist Fellowship International is composed of an informal group of Christians who get together to grow in their faith and discuss spiritually challenging issues. Some of the topics that were discussed by students this year include marriage, Christian free time, accountability, humility and service, self-discipline, dealing with depression, and the gifts of the Spirit. Daniel and Sharon Song led a discussion on what it means to a Christian. Other interesting speakers and topics included Dr. Ashiwel Undie challenging the science behind the theory of evolution, the dispensing of RU-486, and the discussion of euthanasia. As a group, prayer requests are made over the internet and prayer meetings are regularly scheduled . . . co written by Shetal Desai

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association of the School of Pharmacy supports communication between alumni and the School, alumni and the current students, and alumni and the professional organizations. During 1996-97, President Alisa E. Billington, '91 was dedicated to improving the Association's relationship with current pharmacy students. The Association hosted dinners for students to introduce them to the Association and to let them know their importance in its continuing success. The Association awarded scholarships, helped fund various student organization trips, and hosted the Annual Spring Graduation Banquet. The guests of honor included the first all PharmD Class of 1997, Matthew Shimoda, '84, as the Honored Alumnus, and Alfred Abramson '56, as Honorary President of the Alumni Association for the 1997-1998 school year.

Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly

The Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly was formed in 1979 by Dr. Peter Lamy. It is the focus of geriatric education, research and service programs for the School of Pharmacy. Support for the Center is given in the form of grants from the private and public sectors.

The Center publishes a quarterly newsletter, ElderCare News, which goes to more than 47,000 health care professionals nationally and internationally. Under the auspices of the Center, the Elder-Health Program provides consumer drug education programs to the elderly, their caregivers and to health care professionals both in Maryland and nationally. This program is headed by Dr. Madeline Feinberg. Students may take electives, such as Geriatric Drug Education or Elder Visitation, which prepares them to interact with the older patients to improve medication outcomes. The Elder-Health Program produces more than twenty customer education brochures.

Center Faculty:

In addition to Dr. Madeline Feinberg who has been with the Center since its inception in 1970, Dr. Becky Nagle joined the Center in 1994. She has developed a geriatric inpatient practice at the Veteran's Affairs Medical Center in Baltimore. Also, she has developed an elective course for students interested in geriatric pharmacotherapy and has initiated research concerning drug use among the assisted living, elderly population.

Drs. Robert Michocki, Ilene Zuckerman, Myron Weiner, and Beverly Yachmetz have been actively involved in Center activities. Among the most popular experiences for students are the outpatient geriatric evaluation clinics precepted by Drs. Michocki and Zuckerman. Dr. Weiner's geriatric pharmacology course is also a longtime student favorite as well.

Drug Information Center

The University of Maryland Drug Information Service was established within the School of Pharmacy in 1990. This service is designed to provide comprehensive medical information to contract affiliated but not limited to patient-specific and adverse drug reaction consultations, guidelines for use, formulary monograph/review preparation and management, and newsletter support. The UMDI and its' staff are also charged with the education of UMAB PharmD students in the practice of medical literature analysis. Students are educated on the proper utilization of on-line databases and search strategies in the hope of making them more proficient in the assimilation of information. The UMDI also participates in ongoing Internet Drug Information Service, which provide WWW users the ability to submit questions to qualified, trained pharmacy staff. These questions are not limited in any way to geographic region or subject. The UMDI answers each question on an individual basis, usually within 7 business, many within hours.

A Letter from the Editors

Every year Terra Mariae is published. It represents a different group of individuals that help to put the Terra Mariae together. Each year the cover is unique and so is each class that it represents. Each day in Pharmacy School is a day filled with joy, laughter, frustrations, disgust, or even heartbreak. We tried to capture these feelings in this yearbook as best we could.

The yearbook is put together from many different viewpoints with many different aspects from beginning to end. It begins with the idea, the pictures, the computer work, the editing, and ends with the actual printing. We cannot fully express our gratitude to all who helped to make this yearbook possible.

We would not have finished this yearbook without everyone's help, cooperation, and patience. Dr. MacKerell, thanks for being brave enough to step forward and continue as our leader and confidant. You have tolerated us throughout the year, especailly around the time of our deadlines. Thanks to Tim Munn and Tony Strother for their help with all of our computer problems and complaints. Thanks to Joe Wenzl, our Taylor representative. He is the one who ultimately "brings the yearbook together," the final product seen here.

Special thanks goes out to the wonderful ladies on the 7th floor, Gloria Ricks, Mary Joe Ivens, Odessa Jones, Ann Bonaparte, and Brenda Conrad for all of their help.

We thank Dr. MacKerell for writing the dedication for Dr. Reynolds, Dr. Romrill for writing Dr. Finley's dedication,, and Dr. Eddington for Dr. Young's dedication. Thanks to Dean Knapp for writing Dr. Kinnard's dedication and for the Dean's Message at the begining of the Yearbook. We also would like to thank Dr. Beardsley for his contributions.

Many thanks go out those special people who helped to take pictures and to those that did the layouts!! Thanks Jen Fan (1997 Senior Class Historian and Senior Editor), Seth Cohen (1999 Class Historian), Melanie Ruane (2000 Class Historian), Andrew Cote, Wayne Myers, Sarjita Naik, Andrea Seitzman, Cherokee Layson, Mark Shuford, Monica Pogue, and John McKigney. We also thank all of those special people who let us use their pictures for the yearbook. Special thanks goes to Dawn Johnson, (Senior Editor) for all of her time and hard work that she has put into this year's yearbook.

Lastly, thanks to everyone that has shared in making all of the memories for the school year of 1996-1997.

Sincerely,

The Yearbook Staff
